Dog's life

My boss usually comes home at 7 o'clock in the evening. Often he is tired and a little nervous, because his director gibes him a lot of job and other workers do nothing. When he is in a bad mood I understand him and go away to escape a kick.

As soon as he comes home, my boss sits in the armchair and turns the tv on. If the telephone rings or the child disturbs him, he becomes nervous again and says that he can't have a rest. His wife comes from the kitchen and they become to argue and I become to bay.

My boss thinks that his wife spends a lot of money, goes to the hairdresser's every week and speaks on the phone all the time with her girlfriends which are all cretins and don't make order at home. His wife usually answers that this is not true and becomes to cry and prepares suitcases for go to her mother. Than she changes her mind, because at home there aren't enough suitcases to put all her clothes.

Sometimes when they argue, in the oven slightle burns the roast the wife feels the smell and runs in the kitchen but it is very late. That's why they eat salad (I eat products for dogs, which are tastier that salad). At the table while eat, my boss reads a sportive magazine. He is very inteligent, he always reads the sportive magazine, at the table, in the office, in the autobus.

After dinner, they go to the living room, they want to watch tv. The wife prefers to watch sentimental films, the husband wants to watch a football match, their child wants to watch cartoons. They argue come crazy. Sometimes, our neighbours, come and say that they do a lot of noise. I sleep under the table, at home is warm I a feel myself good.

My bosses are very wonderful persons. I am very lucky to live with them, because today it is not very easy to find such inteligent and simpatic bosses.
